

Paolo Trevisan

Attorney in the Office of Policy and External Affairs at the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Paolo Trevisan specializes in patent law, trade secrets and technology transfer issues.

Mr. Trevisan has represented the USPTO at meetings of various international organizations, and in bilateral meetings with many countries in Europe and Asia.

He also lectures on various topics related to intellectual property.

Mr. Trevisan obtained a Law degree from the George Washington University and a Master degree in Aerospace Engineering from the University of Virginia.